

US E-COMMERCE CASE STUDY

VELA HOME DECOR

Meta Ads Optimization: Achieving 4.5x ROAS

BY FIZA ZAFAR

Executive Summary

A systematic breakdown of scaling an American Premium Brand from $100/day to $500/day profitably within a competitive Direct-to-Consumer (DTC) landscape.

CAMPAIGN PERFORMANCE OVERVIEW

$21,825

Tracked Revenue (30 Days)

Moving away from inefficient broad targeting to data-driven intent-based funneling across top US metros.

| THE CHALLENGE & OBJECTIVES

Rising CAC

US ad accounts face massive fatigue and high CPMs. Goal was to maintain low Customer Acquisition Cost.

Funnel Leakage

Fixing low conversion drops by redesigning landing page hooks and instant experiences.

Ad Fatigue

Combating audience saturation via a rapid dynamic creative testing workflow.

MEDIA BUYING STRATEGY

Creative Sandbox Architecture

We launched a separate campaign purely for testing hooks, angles, and CTAs utilizing Meta's dynamic creative options.

- ✓ High-Energy Problem-First Hooks
- ✓ User Generated Content (UGC) Focus
- ✓ Rapid Angle Iteration

EFFICIENCY MILESTONE

4.50

Blended Purchase ROAS

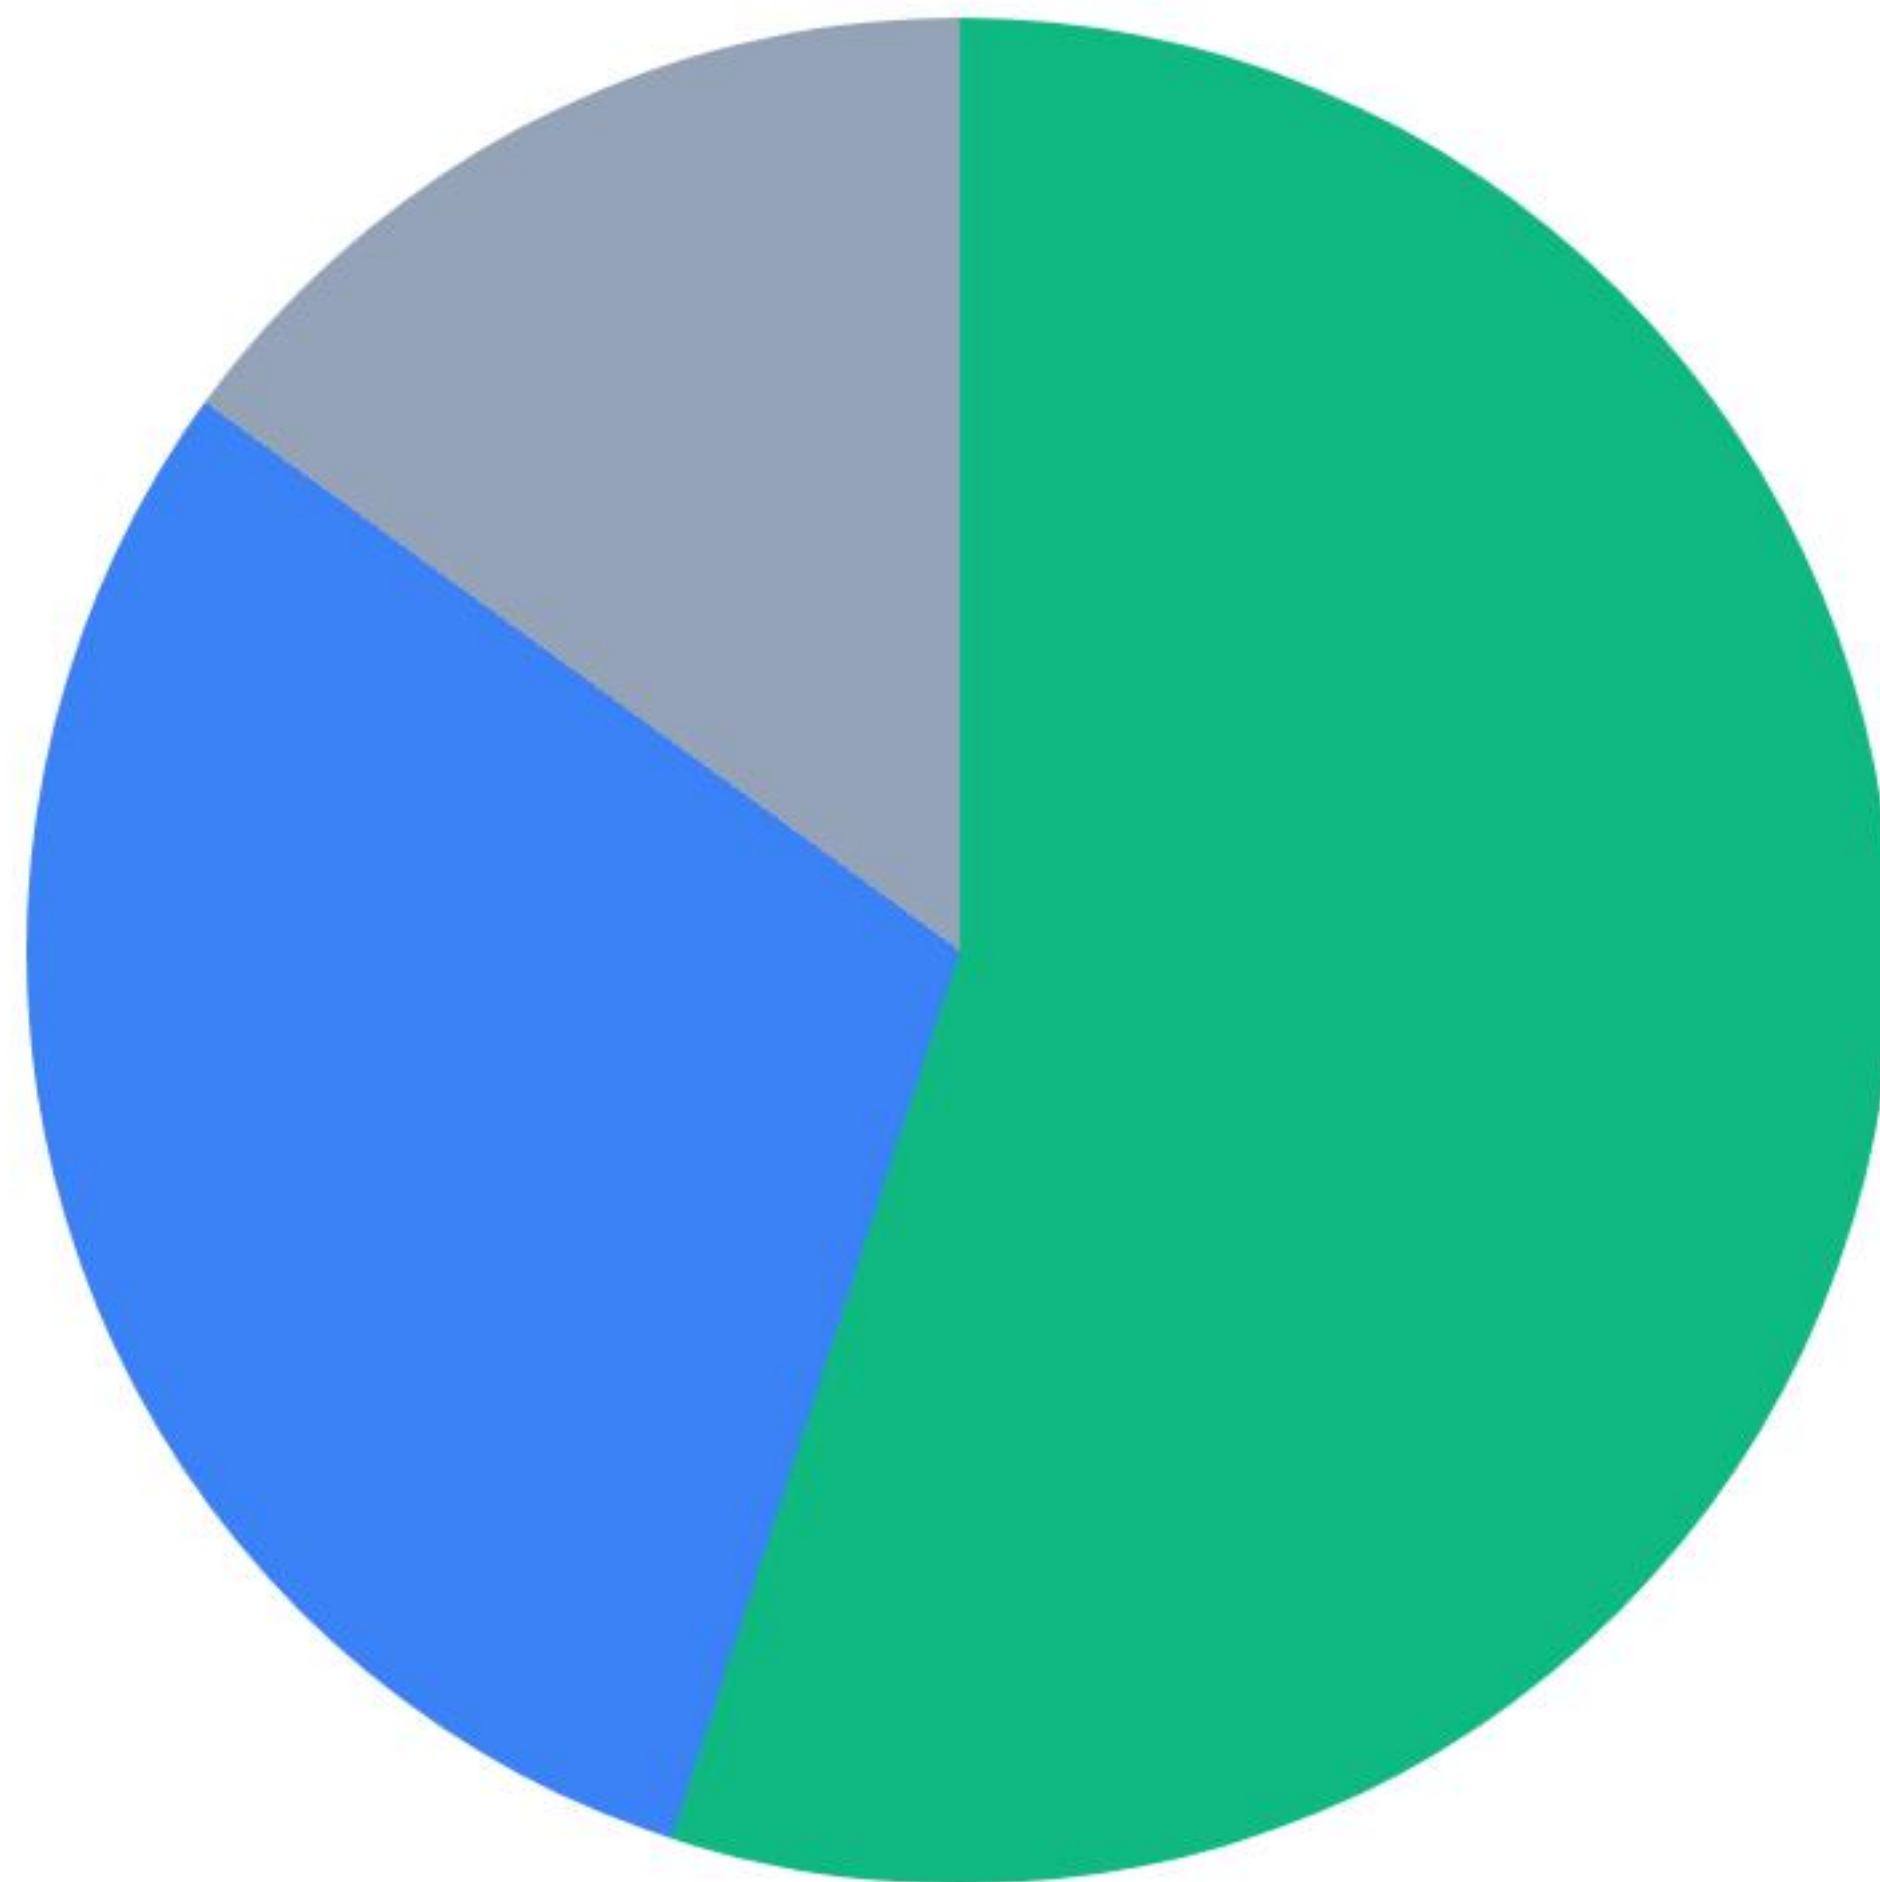

By securing a verified 4.5x return on ad spend, Vela Home Decor achieved high profit margins after accounting for shipping fees and COGS.

SCALING TRAJECTORY (30-DAY TREND)

Revenue Velocity Following Optimization

TACTICAL EXECUTION & IMPLEMENTATION

-  The 3-Second Hook Rule: Swapping product-focused intros for energy problem-first variations boosted video hook rates by 38%.
-  High-Intent Retargeting: Excluding 30-day past purchasers while aggressively retargeting ATC drop-offs via social proof ads.
-  Meta Conversions API (CAPI): Server-side tracking via Gateway to bypass iOS 14+ data loss, resulting in cleaner pixel optimization.
